Garden Gourmet

Garden Gourmet is a super premium wild bird food, rich in carbohydrates and oil to provide a vital source of energy. The nutritional content of Garden Gourmet is particularly important not only during harsh weather conditions, but also when breeding and rearing young, and during the moulting season, when birds are prone to stress. Additionally, this mixture is superb for building condition prior to their epic migration journeys. The no-mess, small-seeded mixture attracts a great variety of birds to the garden, without leaving husks and waste. The mixture is also enriched with Pro-tec Health Aid which boosts the nutritional value of this mixture by helping to naturally support the well-being of birds, supporting the micro flora in the gut and providing essential elements for the immune function.
